ARMY CHANGES REQUESTED BY GEN. PERSHING

Seven Changes Are Made in Commanding Personnel to Satisfy Commander.

Sweeping changes in the commanding personnel of the American army were foreshadowed last night, when seven general officers were relieved of field commands and assigned to permanent duty on this side of the Atlantic.

Those Affected.

The shake-up is a direct result of the demand made by Gen. Pershing that only commanding officers physically fit and able to stand the rigors of service at the front be sent abroad.

The officers affected are:

Maj. Gen. Richard M. Blatchford, national army (brigadier general); recommendation: That he be discharged from his commission in the national army and remain on his present duty (commanding Department of Panama).

Maj. Gen. Edwin S. J. Greble, national army (brigadier general); recommendation: That he be discharged from his commission in the national army, relieved of command of the Thirty-eighth Division, Camp Bowie, Texas, and assigned to other duty.

Maj. Gen. Charles G. Morton, regular army; recommendation: That he be relieved from command of the Twenty-ninth Division, Camp McClellan, Alabama, and assigned to other duty.

Maj. Gen. Edward H. Plummer, national army (brigadier general); recommendation: That he be discharged from his commission in the national army, relieved from his command of the Eighty-eighth Division, Camp Dodge, Iowa, and assigned to other duty.

Maj. Gen. William H. Sage, national army (brigadier general); recommendation: That he be discharged from his commission in the national army, relieved from command of the Thirty-eighth Division, Camp Shelby, Mississippi, and assigned to other duty.

Maj. Gen. Thomas H. Barry, regular army; recommendation: That he be relieved from command of the Twenty-ninth Division, Camp McClellan, Alabama, and assigned to other duty.

Maj. Gen. William A. Mann, national army (brigadier general); recommendation: That he be discharged from his commission in the national army, relieved from his command of the Eighty-eighth Division, Camp Dodge, Iowa, and assigned to other duty.

WAR SAVINGS SALES SHOW GOOD INCREASE

Government Employees Show Appreciation of Patriotic Investment.

Reports from the Government departments show a steady increase in war stamp sales. The Navy Department has a total of $20,400.90 to its credit. During the week of March 9, the employees of this department purchased stamps amounting to $3,728.25, according to a report from P. S. Curtis, chief clerk.

The Treasury Department has a total in sales recorded to date of $4,609.97. This department expects to pass the $50,000 mark in a short time. Last week sales amounted to $1,929.25.

Attention is again called to the giving of War Savings and Thrift Stamps, as presents by D. J. Callahan, director for the Division of Columbia. These stamps, says the Director, make ideal presents for birthdays, for graduation, and for all other occasions on which it is desirable to remember friends.

By giving War Savings and Thrift Stamps, the recipient is not only remembered but the country is aided in attaining the goal for which these securities were established. Thrift and War Savings Stamps may be purchased in lots to suit all purses, from twenty-five cents to $1,000, maturity value, the full amount one person is allowed by law to hold.

Y. M. C. A. SHOWS WILL WELCOME STRANGERS

Series of Events Planned for New Residents of Capital.

The Washington Y. M. C. A. has arranged a series of "Welcome to our city" events for this week, especially designed for strangers in Washington.

This evening Miss Sydney Thompson, who has evolved a novel form of impersonation in what she terms "dramatic plays," has arranged a dramatic program which will be given at the association assembly hall.

There will be a musical program, furnished by the camp service quartet, an organization primarily intended to help entertain the soldiers in camps about Washington.

Miss Mary A. Cryder is director of the quartet, and its members are Mrs. W. S. Klime, Mrs. E. N. Burgess, Miss Marie de V. Knapp, Miss Ann Tushy and Mrs. Charles F. Allen, accompanist.

Last evening Lieut. H. E. Klein, U. S. N., gave a talk on "Winning the Personal War," one of the series of sex hygiene talks of the association.

On Saturday evening the association will hold another of its "Open house" programs, in conjunction with members of the Y. M. C. A., in celebration of St. Patrick's Day. Members of the Gaelic Society of Washington helped plan the celebration and will take part in the events. A feature will be an exhibition of old Irish songs, the singing of the songs of the Erin Isle and Irish folk dances in the gymnasium.

In the assembly hall the Y. M. C. A. players will present "Workhouse Ward," a play by Lady Gregory, directed by Nino Julius Maiori, in which will be seen Joseph Leahy, Alice J. Whitcomb and Kennedy Meek.

A quartet which also will sing many of the songs of the Gaelic Society, Irish songs is composed of Edna Hill, Howard, Carolyn Manning, Charles E. Myers, James Nolan and Miss Jennie Glennan at the piano.

Ira S. Baker Asks That Family Shall Not Wear Mourning

Expressing the wish that none of his family exhibit any outward signs of mourning at his death, the will of the late Ira S. Baker, father of Reid S. Baker, a prominent local merchant, was filed for probate yesterday.

Quoting from Hamlet, the will of Mr. Baker, who died March 1, stipulates that "the trappings and suits of woe" be omitted.

Mr. Baker leaves his entire estate to his widow, Clara E. Baker, and expresses the conviction that she will do exact justice between the two children. Mrs. Baker is also named as executrix. Mr. Baker's will is dated September 12, 1908.

Our President in Wartime

Sketches by J. R. Grove, Herald Artist, Originator of "Comedies of Camp Meade."

4.—AT WORK.

Woodrow Wilson is the greatest living exponent of the good old adage: "If you want a thing well done, do it yourself."

Other Presidents who have achieved reputations for their great state papers have been content to have their Cabinet members and political advisers submit drafts of proposed documents which they made their own by revision and modification. But all the great messages and addresses of the Wilson administration have been the exclusive product not only of his own brain but also of his own hand.

In the President's inner office there is a battered old typewriter, which any fastidious $12-a-week stenographer would scorn to touch, on which he has pecked out, letter by letter, word by word, the messages which have thrilled the world.

In the years to come this old writing machine, relic of the President's professional days, should be enshrined in a place of honor in the National Museum, along with Washington's sword and Lincoln's quill pen.

The President of the United States finds time, through orderly arrangement of his life, not only to write all his important documents with his own hand, but also to file all important papers in a filing case to which no other person has a key, in order that there may never be even the remotest possibility of a leak.

Read The Herald tomorrow for No. 5 of this interesting series of drawings.

"Good Morning, Judge"

Human Interest Stories of Police Court Happenings.

By RUDOLPH PERKINS

The Manter Almost Got Mashed.

"If I spoke to this lady on the street I didn't know it Judge," pleaded John Samar.

John was arrested on Pennsylvania avenue after he had almost been killed by a stout party who had resented some eye winking from the man.

For two blocks it seemed John had drawn the attention of the police passerby's by flitting, winging and oing other little things.

One woman (of color) at whom he had winked his eye was about to maul him good when the cop here in sight and prevented a near-murder.

John was so pickled that he thought the woman was encouraging instead of trying to repel him.

He even tried to kiss the cop when he was being put in the auto patrol.

"I don't remember nothing," said John in court, "I can't say whether I did those things or not."

"I guess I will have to take the policeman's word for it then," said the court as it fined John $25.

READING SAYS ENGLISH FOOD CRISIS AVOIDED

Ambassador Says Prompt Action of U. S. Saves Situation.

Danger of a food crisis in England has been averted, for the present at least, by the prompt response of the United States in rushing more food than ever before to Great Britain and her other Allies across the sea, Lord Reading, British ambassador, told newsmen yesterday afternoon at the embassy.

"Food in an unending stream and in far greater quantities than heretofore is going from this country to England, France and Italy, as the result of a readjustment of shipping worked out between the governments of the United States and Great Britain," the British ambassador said.

The food situation in England, though still far from satisfactory, is now much better than in France or Italy and will be still further relieved with the opening of the ice-bound harbors of Canada and by food supplies which can be shipped south from India and Argentina, Lord Reading declared.

France and Italy, he said, have not been so fortunate, and the shortage of food in those countries remains acute.

No confirmation of press reports that Japan has already intervened in Siberia has been received at the British embassy here, and Lord Reading discredited the reported arrival of Japanese troops there. The Japanese government, he is confident, will not undertake armed intervention without notifying his government that such action is being taken.

American destroyers co-operating with the British navy in European waters are playing a large part in maintaining the great increase in sinkings of U-boats, announcement of which was made recently by the British admiral, the Ambassador said.

Lord Reading has just returned from New York and is greatly impressed with the determination everywhere he has been in this country to postpone discussion of peace terms until an "American peace" can be obtained.

"I would be surprised—disappointed—if Mr. Baker were to return to Washington without visiting Lord Reading," was his reply when asked whether the Secretary of War will go to England before returning from the front in France.

Rockefeller's Yearly Tax Is Figured at $45,000,000.

Forty-five million dollars out of an annual income of $60,000,000 will be the amount paid in income and excess profits taxes by John D. Rockefeller, if he reports his entire income, Dr. Newton Baker, one of the four-minute men, told the audience in the Masonic Temple Theater in an address last night on the graduated income tax.

"The very rich are doing their part to help win the war," Dr. Baker said. "Every person who pays his income tax helps to knock a spike out of the mailed fist of the Kaiser, the gorilla in Berlin, who imagines himself a superman. The reported annual income of America's richest man, John D. Rockefeller, is $60,000,000, and if he reports $60,000,000 income his tax will be 67 per cent of that income or $40,500,000 plus the excess profits tax of about $1,000,000 making his taxes in all about $41,500,000."

FILES BANKRUPTCY PETITION.

John G. Hall, a contractor, residing at 319 C street northwest, filed a petition yesterday in the District Court for the filing of a petition for bankruptcy in the District Supreme Court.

Mr. Hall, who is represented by Attorney Everett Du Four, lists his liabilities at $4,609.70, and his assets at $45.

U. S. Engineers Surveying New Railroad Extension

Government engineers are surveying the route to be followed by the steam railroad which is to connect Washington with Indian Head and Norfolk.

It is also proposed to extend the line through to Norfolk, Newport News, Old Point Comfort and Portsmouth. The projected line would shorten the time by several hours between the Capital and the seaports, and would be a boon to the railroads and to the commerce of the Potomac directly below Indian Head and to continue down the Northern Neck to Newport News.

It is also planned to establish a huge testing-ground near the railroad in King George County, Va., where several large tracts are available for such purposes. Some opposition to this project, being feared, however, by a portion of the residents of Westmoreland County, who object to the establishment of a testing-ground in their neighborhood.

Take Nuxated Iron, Says Doctor, If You Want Plenty of "Stay There" Strength Like an Athlete!

Unkes Delicate Nervous, Run-down People Struggle in Two Weeks' Time in Many Cases.

MOST people foolishly seem to think they are going to get renewed health and strength from some stimulating medicine, secret formula or narcotic drug, said Dr. E. Sauer, a Boston Physician, who has practiced medicine in the country and in great European Medical Institutions, when, as a fact, real and true strength can only come from the food you eat. But people often fail to get the strength out of their food because they haven't enough iron in their blood to enable it to change food into living matter. From their weakened, nervous condition they know something is wrong, but they can't tell what. If you are not strong or well, you owe it to yourself to make the following test: See how long you can work without coming tired. Next take two nuxated iron three times per day after meals for two weeks. Then test your strength again and see for yourself how much you have gained. I have seen dozens of nervous, run-down people, who were ailing all the while, most astonishingly increase their strength and endurance simply by taking iron in the proper form and this after they had in some cases been doctors for months.

But don't take the old forms of reduced iron, such as ferrous sulphate, which is a waste of money. You must take iron in a form that can be easily absorbed and assimilated, like nuxated iron. If you want it to do you any good, otherwise it may prove worse than useless. Many an athlete or prize fighter has won the day simply because he knew the secret of great strength and endurance, which comes from having plenty of iron in the blood, while many another has gone down to ignominious defeat simply for the lack of iron.

NUTRIMENTAL IRON (which is prescribed and recommended above by Dr. E. Sauer, and other physicians, is not a secret remedy but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike other iron preparations, it is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike other iron preparations, it is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike other iron preparations, it is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere.
